TORNADO STRUCK RICHLAND.

Three Percens Killed Near Eastover-All Negro Children.

[The State, 27th.]

The destructive tornado that struck the mill village at Union Sunday afternoon, killing and wounding several people, did not spend all its force in Union county. The fall of the temperature here of 24 degrees in five minutes indicated that Columbia was close in the path of the weird monster, but it was not known until yesterday that it came so near. Yesterday morning news reached the city that it had struck the lower por tion of this county with great severity and had killed at least three persons. The tornado struck the coun try around Eastover and leveled the house of a negro named Washington Haynes on a hill on the Weston plan tation. In the collapse of the house three of Haynes' children were killed outright, and a number of persons who were in the house were injured. Whether others at points beyond fell victims or not could not be ascertained here yesterday.

It is said that the tornado not only blew down houses, fences and trees, but completely ruined the young crops around Eastover, corn being cut off at the ground.

The names of the three Haynes children who were killed could not be ascertained yesterday.

THREE NEGRO CHILDREN KILLED IN SUN DAY'S STORM.

Congaree, May 26.-News of the death of three children, aged 14, 16, 18 respectively, of Wash Hayne, a respectable colored man living on the estate of the late Dr. William Weston, has just been received here. The house of Hayne is situated four miles below here and was in the tail end of the tornado which passed here yesterday af eroom. The inmates of the house were all inside when the house was lifted from the earth and the three persons were burled to death against flying timbers. Three killed and one fatally wounded is the result of the casualty.

CROS-ES OF HONOR.

Latin Inscription that is Puzzling Son Penp e.

[Columbia Record, 26th.]

The crosses of honor which the Daughters of the Confederacy have given to veterans has a little Latin inscription on one side that is puzzling a great many people. The inscription is "Dec vinces." The Anderson Mail says:

Every one has seen the crosse of honor that were recently given them by the Daughters of the Confederacy to the Confederate vetrans of the county. The crosses are very pretty, though modest in design, and are greatly appreciated by the heroes who have received them.

On one side is the Latin inscrip tion, "Dec vinces" When Col J. C. Stribling, of Pedleton, got his cross a few days ago he didn't know what on earth that inscription meant, so he went to a Latin scholar in the city and asked for an English translation. The gentleman told him it meant "God being the judge."

Col. Stribling wasn't altogether satisfied and asked another man, who told him it meant, "God avengeth."

Then Col. Stribling hunted another man and without telling him what the other had said, saked what was the English for "Deo vinces." This man told him it meant "God vindicates."

By this time Col. Stribling was hopelessly mystified. He went to Clemson college a few days later and made the rounds of the professors there. He propounded the question to each one and from each got a new

He wrote the answers down on a piece of paper and yesterday turned them over to the Daily Mail. Here they are:

"By God we conquer." "God being my judge." "God is our refuge." "God vindicates." "Approved by God." "God is with us." "Thou hast been conquered by God."

Col. Stribling has given up in despair. He is very proud of his cross of honor, but it has an inscription the meaning of which he doesn't know and can't find out. He thinks it means something nice, but he would like to be certain about it.

He says that perhaps the ladies who gave the cross can tell what they meant by "Deo Vinces." If so, he would like to hear from them.

ATLANTA SUNDAY JUERNAL. other Piece of Superb Enterprise on the Part of the Great Atlanta Daily-Will Appear June 1.

The Atlanta Journal has announced its purpose to begin on June 1 the publication of a Sunday morning edition. This announcement carries with it the assurance that The Sunday Journal will be one of the most complete, comprehensive and attractive papers published in the entire country-for it is well known that whatever this great southern newspaper undertakes it executes perfectly. The Journal argues that the pubication of its Sunday morning ediion is made neccessary by the growing demand for The Journal onseven days of the week instead of six-in other words, a demand for a newspaper that gives all the news all

The Journal has gone about the preparation of its Sunday edition with the same spirit of enterprise aud liberality of expenditure that has made The Daily Journal the most popular and universally read newspaper in the south. It has not only installed a new $42,000 press, but has at enormous expense sup plemented its already magnificent news service (that of the Associated Press, admittedly the best on earth) with the special cable service of the New York Herald, the most perfect foreign news service in existence, to gether with all of the best special Sunday features of The Herald, the same to appear simultaneously in that paper and The Sunday Journal.

In addition to this its own corps of special writers will embrace some of the best known names in the country; among them George Ade Peter, Fieley Dunne, Bishop Candler, Sam P. Jones, Mrs. Felton, Rev. George G. Smith, the historian, and num erous others. Its social news and religious departments will be special features, while its colored comic supplement will be the equal of any, and the first ever issued by a Georgia newspaper.

The Sunday Journal will be sent to regular subscribers of the daily at 12 cents per week - or for the small additional cost of 2 cents per week. Or it will be served by newsboys at cents per copy.

It goes without saying that this new piece of enterprise on the part of The Journal, meaning as it does, greatly increased service at a mini mum of increased cost, will largely increase the circulation and useful ness of that great newspaper.
